Senior Spotlight

Trinity's softball team has five seniors that bring experience and leadership to their fellow teammates. Hannah Deaton has played softball for Trinity for three years. She is one of the team's two pitchers. She also plays outfield when she is not on the mound. She enjoys her teammates and how they play together as a team. "My overall experience with softball has been amazing. I have enjoyed playing with my team and winning sectionals my sophomore year," states Hannah. Hannah will attend IU Southeast to study Human Resources and Business Management. Morgan Gabbard has played all four years and is the team's other pitcher. She also splits her time playing in the outfield. She has enjoyed competing with her teammates and explains, "I have enjoyed playing softball at Trinity. Through the years, I have had supportive teammates and coaches." Morgan plans on attending the University of Southern Indiana to study Diagnostic Medical Sonography. Jodi Goecker has had multiple roles on the team as a catcher, second baseman, and centerfielder over the last four years. "I have learned while attending Trinity that you have to work hard if you want positive results. My sophomore year we won Trinity's first ever softball sectionals with hard work. It was an experience I will never forget," expresses Jodi. She plans to attend Ball State University and study Actuarial Science. Savanna Setty is playing Trinity softball for the first time as an outfielder. "I have learned how to be mentally tough as a Trinity student and athlete. I enjoy softball and the improvement I'm making is rewarding," states Savanna. She plans on attending IUPUI and majoring in Accounting in the Kelley School of Business. Sami Newmister has played softball for Trinity during her Freshman, Sophomore, and Senior years. She has played multiple positions including outfield and first and second base. She loves that the softball team is like a family. "My softball experience has been nothing but amazing. I love all the girls and coaches. Every year is filled with laughter and fun," expresses Sami. She plans on attending Western Kentucky University in the fall.

The girls tennis team has had a successful season led by three seniors who have played all four years. Courtney Barker plays number one singles and has enjoyed the friendships and memories she has made over the years. "At Trinity I have enjoyed playing singles all four years. Even though we may not win every game, we always have fun and try our hardest," states Courtney. She plans to attend IUPUI to study nursing. Macey Prewitt plays number one doubles. She has enjoyed playing doubles along with the laughs and friendships she has made. Lauren explains, "I have thoroughly enjoyed playing tennis. I like that I have had the same partner for the past two years and we work great together. I also like the positive and Christian attitudes shown by my teammates throughout my four years." Macey plans to attend Ivy Tech. Lauren Voss has played both doubles and singles. This year she is playing number three singles. She has learned patience and respect for others while playing for Trinity. "Every year for tennis has been fun. Each year it has been different with new teammates. I have enjoyed each team," states Lauren. She will attend the University of Indianapolis to study Public Health with a Pre Occupational Therapy focus.

Graduation

On May 2, 2018 at 10:00 A.M. in the Bollinger Athletic complex, thirty-seven TLHS seniors will receive their high school diplomas. The class of 2018 will be the fifteenth class to graduate from Trinity and will join Trinity's current Alumnus totaling over 400 graduated Cougars! The keynote speaker will be Pastor Stuckwisch, readers will be Carrie Adler and John Anderson, while Lindsey Trah and Justin Vorthmann will sing during the ceremony. The seniors in choir and band will be highlighted by the band playing, "He is Exalted" and the Choir singing, "Lift High the Cross." Congratulations to Trinity's 2018 Valedictorians Briley Abraham, Courtney Barker, and Rachel Onken and Salutatorian Noah Criswell. We rejoice with all the TLHS seniors and pray for God's blessings on their future!
