

Cookie Competition Announced

By: Addison Bumbleburg

Fall has arrived and Halloween is fast approaching, so what better way to celebrate than by giving your friend a cookie? Student Media will be selling cookie grams October 4th-8th before school. Cookies will cost $2.50 each and all proceeds will go to a fund for the Student Media class. Kaitlynn Rowe will actually be making the cookies. She does an incredible job baking sugar cookies and decorating them beautifully for whoever would like them! The cookies would be distributed in lockers on October 11th for everyone who receives one.

You all do have a chance to win a free cookie for yourself or a friend as well! We know many of you are capable of becoming journalists as well, so we will be holding a different kind of contest. If you have any skill for writing, photography, or video this is definitely something to try. You can submit an article with a minimum of 75 words, a picture, or a video a minute long or less. The only requirement: these pieces must include a Trinity student or event. You can turn in your submissions to our email: studentmedia@trinitycougars.org by Thursday, October 7th. Anyone can be a journalist, and everything's an article, so go ahead and try something new!
